In the July 2014 Inside Politics Newsletter, Bill writes about how politics are impeding solutions to situation on the border. It is a humanitarian crisis, but for many policy-makers in Washington, it's all politics. The In Focus pieces on p. 3 compare the lack of enthusiasm for intervention in Syria and Iraq to that of previous Middle East conflicts, and explore the challenges to improving the Iowa caucuses. And the infographic on the back page Not Conservative Enough? illustrates a big reason why the GOP base thinks their Congressional Republicans are moderate squishes.
