

National Health Expenditure Savings - Behavioral Health

Actuarial
Research Corporation

This analysis estimates potential savings to Medicare, Medicaid, private health insurance (PHI) and out-of-pocket (OOP) based on a policy for integrating behavioral health into primary health care. Modeling specifications for expanding policies to the under 65 population are from Third Way.

In summary, projected savings to Medicare total $23.2 billion over the 10-year period (2015-2024) and projected savings to Medicaid, PHI and OOP total $28.0 billion, $207.0 billion and $43.1 billion respectively.

To read this report, download the PDF.

TOPICS

HEALTH CARE COSTS 51